In Clerk Robertson's Office. In Clerk Robertson's office yesterday business transacted included the following records:

Deed dated September 5, 1899, between S. B. McKee and Theodore G. Cupp, transferring part of a lot on Jacob street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets; consideration, $1,100.

Deed dated August 30, 1899, between B. Walker Peterson and Frederick Modar, transferring tract of land on Wheeling creek, near Steenrod bridge. Consideration, $1,100. Marriage licenses were issued to Charles Addison Miller, aged twenty-one, and Flora McKown, aged nineteen, of Wheeling; to Robert Moore, aged thirty-six, of Sistersville, and Emma B. Engle, aged twenty-four, of New Martinsville. There were two deeds of trust recorded.

"Battles of Our Nation." The grand musical spectacle, "Battles of Our Nation," illustrating the wars of our country in three acts and twenty tableaux, is to be presented at Mozart park Saturday and Sunday, September 23 and 24, by Contorno's famous concert band. This musical masterpiece was arranged by Dr. G. E. Contorno, and portrays the patriotic history of the United States from the colonial wars. There are sixty eminent musicians and lyric artists under the management of Rich. G. Hollaman, and the management of Mozart park is to be commended for its enterprise in securing such a brilliant attraction.

PICKPOCKETS

And Petty Thieves Pursuing Their Nefarious Calling

HERE DURING THE STATE FAIR.

A Uhrichsville man lost $350 Yesterday Afternoon While on a Street Car Going to the Fair Grounds—An East End Lady Lost $50 During the Fireworks Exhibition Last Night. An Island House Entered.

With the coming of thousands of strangers to Wheeling during the state fair, the pickpocketing fraternity is also, of course, in evidence. Several cases were reported to the police yesterday, and the force did everything in its power to keep the community clear of the light-fingered gentry. But even with a regiment of policemen, instead of the forty at his command, Chief of Police Clemens would be unable, as would any other chief, to detect and place in durance vile the lawless few who thrive on big crowds.

A man said to hail from Uhrichsville, Ohio, who came to Bridgeport shortly after noon, was the heaviest loser of the day. He boarded a car for the fair grounds, and upon arriving at his destination he found that his wallet, containing $350, had been abstracted. Upon inquiry among the passengers it was learned that three suspicious looking strangers had left the car near the corner of Zane and North Huron streets, and doubtless they were the thieves. An effort to locate the trio, of whom only the slightest description could be learned, was without avail up to a late hour last night.

During the fireworks last night at the public landing there were several cases of pickpocketing. Mrs. John Holt, of No. 113 Eighteenth street, lost $50. Some one cut her dress and pocket, and secured the money during the progress of the spectacle.

When Sylvanus Thomas, a carpenter, living at No. 509 Market street, arose from his slumbers yesterday morning he discovered that unwelcome visitors had during the night relieved him of a silver watch and $7 in money. As all the doors and windows were fastened, Mr. Thomas supposed that the thief had entered his home early in the evening, before the family retired, and secreted himself in the cellar. House burglaries are epidemic at present, a number of them having occurred during the week in different parts of this section.

A pickpocket was arrested last night at the public landing by Officer Devinney, in the midst of the fireworks festivities. The fellow was dilapidated in appearance, was blind in one eye and pretended to be an Italian. The officer's suspicions were directed to him for some time previous to the arrest and he watched him for half an hour. The crook aroused suspicion on the part of others by his actions, and while he was dodging around in the crowd Devinney fell upon him and took him to the lockup. No loss that he caused was reported, however.

The robberies which have been disturbing surrounding towns came nearer home Tuesday night, an Island house, that of Samuel Lankaid, being entered. This was learned yesterday morning when the inmates arose. A suit of clothes, two gold watches and other articles, were taken. Neighbors say they heard a sound of breaking glass in the Lankaid home. Mr. Lankaid is engineer at House & Herrmann's store. No arrests have been made in connection with the Moundsville and West Alexander burglaries.

SELECT CASTLE.

Knights of Mystic Chain Completes Its Business.

The select grand castle of the Ancient Order Knights of the Mystic Chain, completed the business of its eleventh annual session yesterday. The new officers, whose elections were given in yesterday's Intelligencer, were installed by Joseph Mitchell, supreme commander, of Pittsburgh, and an address was made by John J. Davis, supreme corresponding scribe. Elk Garden was selected for the 1900 meeting place.
